New Faculty Orientation 2012

On August 8-10, the CTRE will be welcoming faculty to CSU with New Faculty Orientation 2012.

- Introduction to the CSU Contract
- Student Panel Discussion

NFO is the best opportunity for new faculty to get started on the right foot at CSU—for them to know what resources are available, and how to access them.

The program is set to include such sessions as:

- Accessing Campus Technology

EDUCAUSE 2012 Annual Conference

Early registration is now open for one of the most anticipated edutech gatherings of the year: the 2012 EDUCAUSE Annual Conference.

The conference, scheduled for November 6-9 in Denver, Colorado, will “provide content and exploration of today’s toughest technology issues facing campuses around the world, and will convene some of the brightest minds in the community,” according to the EDUCAUSE website.

Among the topics to be discussed at this year’s conference are:

EDUCAUSE2012
ANNUAL CONFERENCE

- Partnerships/Collaborations;
- Social Media/Networking/Web 2.0 and 3.0; and

Looking Forward

Wednesday Workshops

On Wednesday, June 20, Dr. Tim Harrington of the College of Education will lead a workshop titled:

“Comparing Traditional and Constructivist Pedagogies: Teaching Teachers By Modeling”

This workshop will engage faculty in an exploration of pedagogical approaches, from the longstanding Greek tradition of didacticism to the theoretical framework of constructivist learning theory. Attendees will come away from this workshop understanding how the approach they take to teaching can impact their students’ learning in profound and enduring ways.

This workshop will take place tomorrow, Wednesday, June 20 from 12:00 to 2:00 p.m. in LIB 301. If you are interested in attending, please click on the RSVP link below. Questions can be directed to James Kowalski at jkowalsk@csu.edu or x2498.
