

“Power Tools from the LIS Toolbox:
New Faculty Resources for Teaching, Research, and Publication”

with Joanna Kolendo, Assistant Professor,
Reference and E-Resources Librarian

Tuesday, June 18, 2013

10:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.

LIB 301

This tutorial will introduce three new resources for CSU faculty:

1. Faculty Resources Guide
2. Cabell's Directories
3. Choice Reviews Online

Faculty Resources Guide

The Faculty Resources Guide is intended to inform faculty about library resources available to them. This guide is organized into the following sub-topic areas: Library Instruction, Course Reserves (electronic and print), Instruction Resources, Research, and Publishing.

Faculty Resources Guide

<http://csu.libguides.com/facultyresources/>

Cabell's Directories

Cabell's Directories is intended to assist faculty and researchers in matching their manuscripts with the right journals. It provides valuable information for each journal listed within its pages. The journal information provided includes publication addresses, contact information, websites for listed journals, and links to guidelines and submission information. Cabell's also includes information on the style and format of the journals and indicates what citation style the journals employ.

Furthermore, Cabell's describes the type of review process used by editor(s), number of reviewers, acceptance rate, time required for review, availability of reviewers' comments, number of copies required, and manuscript topics.

Cabell's Directories is currently available in the following areas:

- Business and Economics
- Psychology
- Education
- Computer Science
- Health Administration and Nursing

Cabell's Directories
<http://cabells.com/memberarea.aspx>

Choice Reviews Online

Choice Reviews Online is the source for reviews of academic books, electronic media, and Internet resources. It is useful for collection development and scholarly research.

Each year Choice publishes more than 7,000 reviews that are timely, authoritative, concise and very easy to use.

Choice Reviews
<http://www.cro2.org>

