Hope Chicago is a new, innovative, 2-generation scholarship fund that supports Chicago students and their families by providing access to a debt-free post-secondary education.

On September 21st, Chicago State was honored to welcome U.S. Secretary of Education Dr. Miguel Cardona to campus during his national bus tour. The University recently distributed its fourth round of Emergency Scholar Grants to students who are enrolled this semester. Through this emergency grant, CSU was able to provide direct funds to approximately 1719 students between $1200- $1700.

President Scott was appointed to serve on the State’s newly enacted Commission on Equitable Public University Funding.

Chicago State University and the Chicago Department of Planning and Development have partnered to complete a study of the 95th street corridor, with support from the Chicago Community Trust and Latent Design. Through this study, the goal is to best realize how Chicago State’s campus and the University can best serve the community in ways that will generate long-term investment and spur economic activity along 95th Street.
