

1. What we looked at

Students' ability to reflect on real life experiences in service learning and the value of service rendered in the community

2. How we assess it

Performance of reflective skills in service practice in assignments submitted

3. What we found

Students develop a deep sense of compassion, social justice and responsibility towards communities in need.

4. What it means

Chicago State University is at the forefront in producing graduates who become responsible citizens who make a difference in the world they live in.

5. What we're going to do about it

Portfolio presentations culminated the end of the class

6. What happened

Community Engagement beyond Chicago State University.