WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT CSU'S NEW HEAD BASKETBALL COACHES LANCE IRVIN AND MISTY OPAT...

"Without my loved ones in my life I would not have had the foundation of discipline and hard work it took to reach the next level. From the years I've known Lance, he has been nothing but the best. He has been a great example for others and myself who have been under his wing as former players of his. The relationship that we all formed goes beyond basketball and more importantly it's a friendship that his former players will always cherish. Thank you, Lance and your family, for always having my best interest at heart. Chicago State Basketball has a great leader among them."

Jabari Parker
Chicago Bulls Player

"Lance Irvin is a terrific hire for Chicago State. I've known Lance since his days as a young assistant coach and he knows Chicago basketball as well as anyone. He has the ability to develop relationships and connect both with his players and recruits. He has a wealth of experience as a college assistant coach, and he's not afraid to roll up his sleeves and put in the hard work it takes to be successful. Perhaps most importantly, he'll provide his team a first-hand example of how to rise above the adversity that we all face in life. I'm excited and proud of Lance's journey. He did not feel sorry for himself when facing his battle with leukemia. Now cancer free, he will use that inner strength to mentor and motivate his student-athletes at Chicago State as he takes the Cougar program to the next level."

Tom Izzo
Head Men's Basketball Coach
Michigan State University

"Lance Irvin is an excellent hire for Chicago State University. Irvin is bright, energetic, hardworking and a great coach. He has experience beyond his years and has worked for excellent great coaches through the years. I am confident he will be an asset to not only the basketball program, but the entire Chicago State University community."

Robert Smith

"Coach Opat has all of the intangibles of a winning coach! She truly cares about her players on and off the field and wants the absolute best for them! I was successful because I had coaches in my corner that took a genuine interest in guiding and directing me. Coach Opat was a direct part of my success. She knows the game! She's a proven winner!"

Tamecka Dixon

3 X WNBA All-Star

"Congratulations to Misty on her position at Chicago State University as Head Women's Basketball Coach. Over the years I have watched her accomplish extraordinary endeavors as a coach and as a wonderful woman. She cares for your family and players while working the long hours required in coaching. Her passion for teaching is reflected in the spirit of her teams and all those around her. It has been a privilege and honor to recognize her achievements and to call her a friend."

Marian E. Washington
Former Head Women's Basketball Coach
University of Kansas

"Chicago State is getting an absolute champion in every sense of the word to lead their women's basketball program. In almost twenty years of college athletics I've seen very few people who have been able to set, maintain and model a standard of excellence like Misty Opat. She has had amazing levels of success on the court as evidenced by the national championship rings but, as importantly, has used athletics to transform the lives of hundreds of student-athletes. This is home run hire by any measure for Cougars!"
